[L. Hoffsten]

Just like the bubbles in champagne
I got you running through my veins Intoxicated by a strange kind of drug got a sting from a rare little bug I've never seen before You a the sugar in my bowl
my candyman and tootsieroll
Buzz around like a honeybee
kisses filled with calories
Darling I am stuck on you
I got a sweet tooth

I really tried to extract something good from the bitter past But in my cup, I don't want sweet'n low
No one can substitute tin for gold
I want the real thing
You a the sugar in my bowl
my candyman and tootsieroll
Buzz around like a honeybee
kisses filled with calories
Darling I am stuck on you
I got a sweet tooth
