I just seen something its undescribable its undeniable for all of what it means i just want one thing, for all the world to see to plant a growing seed so you dont fade to dust and my eyes are burning up, and it never was enough there is nothing more to say, theres no way you'd let me stay im about to lose my breath, sure enough will lead to death don't deserve to hear your voice, don't deserve to see you

i am too ashamed, its ver frightening its like a lightning that strikes you day in day but one thing remembered i do on december month after september like every one member unlike the pretenders i know you
and my eyes are burning up, and it never was enough there is nothing more to say, theres no way youd let me
stay
im about to lose my breath, sure enough will lead to
death
don't deserve to hear your voice, don't deserve to see
you

and i wanna meet you half way and i wanna love you everyday and i will be here to stay and i will never run a stray

death
don't deserve to hear your voice, don't deserve to see
you
