

Love Equals Death "Contradiction Overload"

Visit "Contradiction Overload" on MotoLyrics.com

You can't explain the reasoning that you give Your self-inflicted contradictions overload
How can you change the way you want to live
And that part of you that makes you grow

You're not who I thought you'd be
So I gotta let you go
The opposite of what I believe
A contradiction of the soul

Break all the chains that bind me
To a world that's filled with hate
I will not suffer this fate
Break down the walls
And all the obstacles in my way
Or give me the strength to levitate
Did you think I would stop my life for you
I didn't want to be the one to make you choose
You say you live a life of no regret
Keep your delusions to yourself

Whoa oh whoa
Take away my dignity
But you'll never get my soul
Opposite of what I believe
So I gotta let you go

Power without caution is death
Take one look around
And see there's nothing left of you here
Your dreams are not your own
You're a fixture to something in someone else's dream
