Cards

What's your stance on letting go, letting go?
I just need to know
I wish I could just know
What's a dream worth? Let it go, let it go
Don't let it break your soul
Sometimes you have to pay a toll

What's the price to pay to be pleased with ourselves?
How far should we push to have it all?
How far will we push to have it all?

What's your life worth? Let it go, let it go
Losing control
Only one chance to say no
Who's to blame here? Let it go, let it go
How'd you get this low? Oh I know
You can't stop, you won't drop
But you're falling straight down from the top

What's the price to pay to be pleased with ourselves?
How far should we push to have it all?
What's the meaning of all these cards we are dealt?
Now we're all in, burning out until we fall

What's your stance on letting go
I just need to know
