I now realize that we are not meant to be
We tried everything but it was never what it seemed Everything we had was not what it should have been
We try to make this but, it in the end, it failed

I was there for you from the start, and it was never enough
We tried so hard to make it work, and it was never

You were there for me from the start, and it was never enough

I will die strong.
Not fall as a disgrace

Now I see it's time for me to go
I cannot sit here and give more of myself
I have to do this for myself
I have done this for myself
