Why don't you go
Go home

You wonder every night
Your beating heart feels dead inside
Your bleeding hands and face
Will leave you here without a trace

And since this war is over now
There's nothing much I would do
What would you think about me now
I've already, Let it go

I'm looking for someplace to go
To lay down my head
And with your bleeding hands at side
In pain

Go home

I wish that I could take you home
Your bleeding heart inside
Is beating all the time
No I will never die

Why did you walk down this empty road?
Why don't you just go home?
These bloody loops of time
Will make you wonder why

Your walking down this empty road, Why don't you just
go home

I'm screaming towards the sky
I'm at my end,
And with your bleeding hands at side
Why don't you just go die
