Will this last forever, Or will you break my heart
Will you be mine forever, Or will my heart be ripped
apart

Every time I'm around you, I feel my heart beat fast
I feel your warmth beside me, I want your love to last
With out you I am nothing, Just a ghost without a name
I'd be lost and forgotten, You are everything to me

Will this last for seconds, Or will this last for years
Will we be together, Until the very end

Hold on, don't be affraid
Trust me, It'll be ok

Will this last forever, Or will you break my heart
apart

We talk about the future, the present, and our past Forget about your problems, They are gone and in the past
Without you I am nothing, Just a ghost without a name
I'd be lost and forgotten, You are everything to me

My heart burns, From within You came into my life and made me happier than I've ever been
You showed me how to love I've forgotten how to hate
What brought us together I know was fate
Every second that I'm left without you by my side
I feel cold and lost just like my heart has died.
