Last weekend, I bought it at the mall
4 track recorder, and a brand used guitar
I'm on a mission, don't get in my way
I'll write a song today to take her away

So it turns out, things aren't going so great Three strings are broken, and I'm starting to hate
All these lyrics and the way that I write them down
I've got a chorus and a cliché break down (break down)

And I get upset when you say that you'll call and you don't Understand how it feels to be alone
Again I sit beside my three string guitar
I'd like to see you but your boyfriend's place is way too far

You know you're exactly what I want Another phone call and I'm gonna breakdown

And I get upset when you say that you'll call and you don't
Understand how it feels to be alone
Again I sit beside my three string guitar
I'd like to see you but your boyfriend's place is way too
