Oh what a disaster
Oh what a crime

To be lost in yourself and not find a way out
So you drive and you driveÂ... with no hands on the wheel
You just wait for the sound of the crashÂ... as you fly through the windshield Glass it litters the pavement face down now you scream

wont you pick me up will you pick me upÂ...

or pleaseÂ...just call a morgue and send in a hearse cause I don't even think I'll make it through the nightÂ... is all that I needÂ...just to see the light at the end of the tunnel still I don't even know why the operator is in the operating room!

Red flashing lights paint the streets as the sirens grow louder

My heart stopped beating or so it seemed my lungs collapsedÂ...inside of my chest Hallways of white flashing by as I think of to myselfÂ... is this heaven is this hell?
But which would I prefer? Is this heaven is this hellÂ....or is this all a dream?

Calling all carsÂ...calling all cars Send me an ambulance anything anyoneÂ...oxygen is depletedÂ...
I've been defeated

Falling apart and this wasn't an accident
Falling apart and this wasn't an accident
(calling all carsÂ....to the scene of the accident)

Falling apartÂ.....at the scene of the accident
