Maybe, I'll breathe this time and see the night is over An'd I'm alive
And I'm feeling, like a gun against my head and I'm getting colder
Will I make it alright
Every time it's the same old story,

Suicide for you and I
You wait at night to fill my head

I'm looking for a light to shine, I'm looking for a friend to borrow
And you don't want to count on me

Waiting, afraid that this might leave you down and broken,
So I don't try
And you see me seal it with a kiss and ask me why Why I don't mind
Dead line there's nothing for me
Seize the day or freeze the frame till you get back,
And fill my head

I'm looking for a light to shine, I'm looking for a friend to borrow Someone to erase the line
And kill that mess that fills my mind Cause I don't want to wait today
And I don't want to waste tomorrow
And be the one who hated me
When you look back will you smile that way

Don't worry it's over you know I'm going to feel the rain

Don't worry it's over you said I'm going to find it you tell me to hold my head up high

every time it's the same old story

suicide for you and I
You live in my head
