The sun revolves around you
I don't know what you think you're on
If it would please you
I could say that you are the cat's meow

You're the only one who cares about you
You're the only one

A stolen cape around you
I don't know who you think you'll save, dear
But if it would please you
I could say that I am drowning here

You're the only one who cares about you
You're the only one
You're the only one who cares about you
You're the only one

When all of these words are stuck in you
You won't be the only one
When all of these words are stuck in you
You won't be the only

You're the only one, yeah
You're the only one

You're the only one who cares about you
You're the only one
You're the only one who cares about you
You're the only one
