Tell me the perfect color
Show me the ways and numbers
Don't give it away
What's the certainty?

There's a known complication
I don't want to know
Where does it go?
Nobody knows
Nobody knows
Nobody knows

There's a long conversation hitting deep within your bosom
And you've held onto nothing for way too long
There are words long unspoken
And a heart which hasn't broken
But the time keeps on growing on and on
On and on
On and on

See what you need
Then you'll see there's no other way to be
Take your time, don't be shy
It's your time to shine

Tell me the perfect color
Show me the ways and numbers
Tell me the thoughts you think of Show me the constellation
Don't give it away
Don't give it away
Don't give it away
Don't give it away
