Waiting here for you, with good intentions.
I did agree to, it nearly never came.
Most of us are true, to one another-
Loyal to the end, and it always comes to
You are not alone;
We are not alone.

Come on, honey, don't be scared;
Take off your jacket, hands in the air.
Spin around and around and try to hold on;
First one to let go's the last one I'll count on.
The other hand, let it go- it's just fine;
You've made up your mind- it's not changing this time.
Spin around and around and try to hold on;
The last one to let go's the first one I'll count on.

I'm waiting there for you.
I never wanted
Everything left to feel so cheap and new;
You knew we'd never last.
Most of us are true, to one another-
Loyal to the end, and it always came to
You are not alone,
We are not alone.

Come on, honey, don't be scared;
Take off your jacket, hands in the air.
Spin around and around and try to hold on;
First one to let go's the last one I'll count on.
The other hand, let it go- it's just fine;
You've made up your mind- it's not changing this time.
And around and around and try to hold on;
The last one to let go's the first one I'll count on.

And I'm so lost, without you.
Oh, again! I'm so lost without you.
You are, running again, running again;
But your feet never touch the ground.
You are, running again, running again;
But your feet never touch the ground.

You are not alone,
We are not alone.

Come on, honey, don't be scared;
Take off your jacket, hands in the air.
Spin around and around and try to hold on;
First one to let go's the last one I'll count on.
The other hand, let it go- it's just fine;
You've made up your mind- it's not changing this time.
And around and around and try to hold on;
The last one to let go's the first one I'll count on.
