Block out the noise
It's the sound of your jaw shut, like a mousetrap
Scratch out the sentences you write
They will fade into obscurity

If you can't wait, it'll happen without you
If you want, it can happen again
It's not happiness we're after
With some time, we'll make it last
When you hit the floor, who's listening, anyway?
Skin and bones

Wear out your welcome like a fool has sequined skin so empty
Hold vacant parties that'll process through the memory and repeat

If you can't wait, it'll happen without you
If you want, it can happen again
It's not happiness we're after
With some time, we'll make it last
When you hit the floor, who's listening, anyway?
On the day you die,
Just a souvenir on your bedside
Skin and bones

Swim through an ocean in the air.
There is no escape what is happening
Pull from your body brittle bones
It's the symptom of possibility

If you can't wait, it'll happen without you
If you want, it can happen again
It's not happiness we're after
With some time, we'll make it last
When you hit the floor, who's listening, anyway?
On the day you die
Just a souvenir on your bedside
Skin and bones
