William, just take your toys from me
I'm not so interested in playing with you
A pessimist, that's all they think of you
I'm not ashamed of you
But that's what they see

And fifty cents to buy a popsicle
A moment we could share
I just want to

William, just take your attitude
I'm not in love with you
Anymore

Don't pretend tomorrow will be better for you
William
William

William, I'm sure you'll find a way to be something
But that's the way it goes for you and me
That's the way it should be

Hold me down before I do something that I'll regret
I give this urge to take my chances, when
I know I shouldn't speak

Don't pretend tomorrow will be better for you

William, just take your time machine
I'm not so interested in turning around
What's the use explaining everything you swear is true?
I believe in less in what you do
Are you misunderstood?

A perfect score
My hurricane can blow me out the door
I never meant to be a safe excuse
For all of your pain

Don't pretend tomorrow will be better for you
