Never could I see
The beauty of your ways

You wore your crown
Alone in silence
In silence

I wish that I could see you in a different light
I'm hoping that someday I'll see you
Fall in love without falling apart

I wish that I could see you in a different light
But I know that soon I'll see you
Fall asleep without falling into dreams

Your heart is already there
Don't fight your anxiety

And don't tire your eyes
I'll see you at my end
At my end

I wish that I could see you in a different light
I'm hoping that someday I'll see you
Fall in love without falling apart

I wish that I could see you in a different light
But I know that soon I'll see you
Fall asleep without falling into dreams

I know you have to leave
'Cause there is less
That you would miss
If you would stay

I wish that I could see you in a different light
I'm hoping that someday I'll see you
Fall in love without falling apart

I wish that I could see you in a different light
But I know that soon I'll see you

Fall asleep without falling into dreams
