Must be blind, I didn't see the signs
I believed there was only you and me

Now I know I was a puppet in your show
The game went on, I played along, I'm such a fool

It should've been me, driving behind the wheel
It should've been me, that's the way I feel

I know it now
What you're all about
Don't wanna hear the sound
When you go and crash my world

Baby finally
You're not fooling me
Not gonna stick around
When you try and crash my world

Thank God I found another pair of eyes
Now I see fine right through your old disguise

No turning back I keep on walking away
Still you pretend it's not the end, but I won't stay

It should've been me, driving behind the wheel
It should've been me, but I was in too deep

I know it now
What you're all about
Don't wanna hear the sound
When you go and crash my world

Baby finally
You're not fooling me
Not gonna stick around
When you try and crash my world
