You by yourself
Heard a sound that you'd been searching for
To change your life
There by your side
I was looking for this world
That you had somehow tried

Then right before my eyes
I felt it
My heart was pure
And I wanted more

So I wait for signs to feel
You offered me the chance to see what's real
And I wanted all you had
So I'll close my eyes and see things from the past
I just laugh and I know
I'll be

All these years that I blamed
All the world
Was really me just falling far below
And now time is of course looking back on me

And I can't change its course
So I wonder how this works
I'm telling you my heart is hurt
And I wanted more

So I wait for signs to feel
You offered me the chance to see what's real
And I wanted all you had
So I close my eyes and see things from the past
And I wanted all you had
So I'll close my eyes and see things from the past
I just laugh and I know
I'll be
