BTW it's Navarro not Navara. (Dave's cousin)

Don't waste your breath, don't waste my time
If I hear one more excuse I'll lose my mind
It's been a quiet war behind closed doors Ain't it getting hard to keep your balance anymore?
chorus 2x
Walkin' on a wire
Higher and higher
You told the truth but you're still a liar

You deal in black and white and everything in between you were blessed with such finesse I almost know what you mean
Now I can close my eyes, pretend to let it pass but you live on borrowed time and it would never last chorus bridge
And how does it feel with the whole world watching?
Do you feel like you're gonna fall?
Was it safer with your back up against the wall?
Why did you try when you know you were losing?
Just one mistake and you would lose it all

Don't waste your breath, don't waste my time
If I hear one more excuse I'll lose my mind

chorus out
