"Your Eyes, Glazed Over"

Your smile seemed so inviting
How was I to know I'd have to pay
To see such beauty
I scream for you now
If only my eyes could see the truth behind that smile and tears
If only my eyes could see the truth
I try to breathe without you
Words cannot express the tears I've shed
I try to breathe without you
Words cannot express the tears I've shed
The cries of broken angels tore through the silence
I saw the devil in your eyes
In your eyes
I woke up in this nightmare distraught
And distracted by these fantasies
Goodbye
My darling
My tainted one
Come burn with me
Eternally
Distance made my heart burn fonder of you...
