Sky became darker when the news there came
His cruel father was coming too fast
Leaving behind him cancer and sorrow
So satisfying his thirst for vengeance
It's time to call the wisdom of the wind
The whisper of the shadows
The sword and the shield the power of the steel
To win the mask of hell

Face the king, ride the wind
For the legend of steel
Leave dark hell behind you forever
Face the king, ride the wind
For the legend of steel
Break the chains of the past forever
Face the king

And so the day came... son against father
Clash of their weapons at the crash of thunder
Hard was the fight in that unholy night
So red the ice was never
The sword and the shield the power of the steel
To win the mask of hell

Face the king, ride the wind

For the legend of steel
Leave dark hell behind you forever
Face the king, ride the wind
For the legend of steel
Break the chains of the past forever
Face the king

"Oh, beholder, what did you do?
May the lord forgive your action..."
The black raven is now flying
While the brave one's slowly dying...
But the swears with last breath: "I'll be back
To take you to dark Alkar, the kingdom of pain!"

Face the king, ride the wind
For the legend of steel

Leave dark hell behind you forever
Face the king, ride the wind
For the legend of steel
Break the chains of the past forever
Face the king
