"Mother Symphony"

Come to think of it as I watch the stars fall from the sky
All our lives we've been aiming
Down a path that we've mapped out in the heart

Let's stop the fighting
At least we should give it a try
To end the pain
To mends the wounds
To give ourselves a brand new start

All the people who despise the sea
All the people who don't feel adorn
Why can't you see?
That it's all out of love that we were all born!

So let everyone know that you are fighting!
To fill your heart
It's known what you wanted all along
So follow your path with a miracle song
So if in your soul you can feel painful sadness
Just let it part
Your lullaby will be remedy
Just like a loving mother's symphony
