I choked on the tension
For a moment
This was a long time coming
Wipe the slate clean

Selfish intentions
From the start
Got me nowhere
Kept me hanging on for too long

A blessing in disguise

You thought you had me
Had me going no where fast
I won't get stuck in
The middle of a falling out

I haven't recovered from my awakening
But what I discovered is breaking me
Breaking me
Breaking me
Building me up inside
You thought you had me
Had me going no where fast
I won't get stuck in
The middle of a falling out

Momentary lapse of reason
Stuck in the middle of a falling out
If you lie amongst the shallow
You'll end up off the deep end

You thought you had me
Had me going no where fast
I won't get stuck in
The middle of a falling out

I choked on the tension
For a moment
This was a long time coming
