You're still waiting for an answer Still afraid to make a move Wanting me to make your mind up so you don't have to choose It was easy running faster without so much time to see And everything you did, you did so willingly Fear of what you could be losing and may never be replaced
Cause you might be wrong yes you might be wrong are you still scared of trying telling yourself "i'm not stat strong"
cause you might be wrong I've imagined every outcome imagined how my life would be It's not close enough to touch but close enough to see It is safer just to stay here and pretend that this is me But I might be wrong
yes I might be wrong I am sill scared of trying telling myself "i am not that strong"
But I might be wrong Life could hurt you, it could hurt you still so you're better off this way And my heart could break and never heal again Again...
You're still waiting for an answer still afraid to make your move wanting me to make your mind up so it's not up to you
cause you might be wrong
cause you might be wrong
are you still scared of trying telling yourself "I am not that strong"
cause you might be wrong
cause you might be wrong
cause you might be wrong.
