He came out of the rainbow
He said, gimme one day of your life.
Spellbound, how could i say no?
Sweet trance suddenly knew what it's like

The clouds above me looked different that day
And soon reality was fading away.

Walking side by side and I felt a touch of paradise.
And the sun went down at the gates of eden.
Floating in a dream
and the times passed by just like the wind
Whispered in the trees at the gates of eden

Twilight , colours are changing green leaves turning to gold as they fall.
Moonshine was in his eyes and
Then I, I knew the thrill of it all
Oh so it's faded in two shades of blue.
I didn't wonder where I was going to.

Walking side by side and I felt a touch of paradise.
And the sun went down at the gates of eden.
Floating in a dream
and the times passed by just like the wind
Whispered in the trees at the gates of eden

Now he's out of sight, but he'll never be out of my mind
And I walk alone trough the gates of eden.
Floating in a dream
and the times passed by just like the wind
Whispered in the trees at the gates of eden

Now he's out of sight, but he'll never be out of my mind
And I walk alone trough the gates of eden
Floating in a dream
and the times passed by just like the wind
Whispered in the trees at the gates of eden
