Let Jah Be Praised (Igzeber)
Lucky Dube

We've got the wind that blows every day
We've got the moon and the stars that gives us light every day
We've got the wind that blows every day
We've got the moon and the stars that gives us light in the dark

We've got life, we've got love, but at the corners of our minds we've got questions.
And the question is, where do all these things come from?

This world is turning around but we don't know how it does. This world is turning around but we don't know how it does. Oh, you don't know that.

Let Jah be praised
Let Jah be praised

The world is turning around but we don't know how it does. They said the world is turning around but we don't know how. Oh, they don't know that.

They say the flowers and the trees, they are growing out there where nobody cares. They've got life, they've got energy, but at the corners of our minds we've got a question. And the question is, where do all these things come from? Oh, nobody knows.

We are living in this world that's turning around but we don't know how it does. The world is turning around but we don't know how. Oh, no.

Let Jah be praised
Let Jah be praised
Let Jah be praised
Let Jah be praised

Repeat

Chorus till fade
