

Lucy Schwartz "Those Days"

Visit "Those Days" on MotoLyrics.com

Aching, caught in a hurricane
It's taking every muscle to move again
Sleepless nights, lazy Sundays
Heavy eyes, it's a case of the Mondays

Sinking, feet in the sand again
I'm thinking I should look before landing
In a six foot hole, where the arrow is pointing
To a danger zone that I should be avoiding

O-oh-oh-oh-oh, O-oh-oh-oh-oh,
Must be one of those days
O-oh-oh-oh-oh, O-oh-oh-oh-oh,
But I haven't words to complain

Shaking, tied to the tracks again
I'm waiting for the sound of the train engine
And no one cares, nobody lingers
But to stop and stare and point with their fingers
Feeling, hands in the dark
You know I'm heeling, but it's only a start
Because the wind will blow and topple me over
And the undertow will wash me to nowhere

O-oh-oh-oh-oh, O-oh-oh-oh-oh,
Must be one of those days
O-oh-oh-oh-oh, O-oh-oh-oh-oh,
But I haven't words to complain

Â'Cause when the dayÂ's over
I've got your shoulder
To help me carry the weight pulling under
Didn't you wonder how everybody gets through the day

O-oh-oh-oh-oh, O-oh-oh-oh-oh,
Must be one of those days
O-oh-oh-oh-oh, O-oh-oh-oh-oh,
But I haven't words to complain

Visit Lucy Schwartz page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

