He says it's just not right, not right now

We've got places to go

And I'm full of empty space

And I die to know your face

And I will

Lose this fight

And do what's right

Just not right now

Not tonight

He pulls the car up to the sidewalk

He turns his head and turns the key

He says there's no need for a big talk

He says he'll leave it up to me, yeah

And I'm full of empty space

And I die to know your face

And I will

Lose this fight

And do what's right

Just not right now

Not tonight

[spoken:]

I don't know how I got here

I don't know how I got here

(Oooohh)

I don't know how I got here

(Oooohh)

And I'm full of empty space

And I die to know your face

And I will

Lose this fight

And do what's right

Just not right now

Not tonight

Just not right now

Not tonight
