

Christine Anderson "Hollywood Trainwreck"

Visit "Hollywood Trainwreck" on MotoLyrics.com

Hollywood Trainwreck by Christine Anderson

Since I've been on my own
I haven't really changed, I haven't really grown
I go out forever and never come home
To someone waiting up for me to tell me I'm a

Hollywood Trainwreck, a gorgeous disaster
A pitiful hazard and a beautiful nightmare
And I'll live happily ever after livin' it up in LA

Since I packed up my things
Left my piano for a keyboard with synth strings
Hurt a little flirting with a couple of flings
At least they didn't stick around to tell me I'm a
Hollywood Trainwreck, a gorgeous disaster
A pitiful hazard and a beautiful nightmare
And I'll live happily ever after, livin' it up in LA

Maybe I'm trying to make believe
I wanted to go and I was happy to leave
I think I love you and it might be naive
But I kinda miss coming home to have you tell me I'm a

Hollywood Trainwreck, a gorgeous disaster
A pitiful hazard and a beautiful nightmare
And I'll live happily ever after, livin' it up in LA

Livin' it up
Givin' it up in LA

Visit Christine Anderson page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.