Take a look around
It's a masterpiece in the works
Not something that popped up like a jack in the box
It's all part of creation the creation God put forth
Not from some bacteria that grows from a monkeys foot
Hey i'm just a kid
I can't possibly be right
You don't have to smash our views just to make yours seem right
And lightening up a bit could help the stress Maybe a little time with God could clear your head I've had my share of struggles in the past And God has always helped me pull it through even when i didn't care Somehow he helped me pull it through How could i know of struggles when i'm only 21 years old
Growing up slowing down not as easy as it sounds
