Were not so different you and me Behind our courage were both strong when under neath
Would you dare to take my hand
Though im a stranger, were both strangers in this land

I will pray for you and I will hope that you'll pray for me
You wont need your weapons i'll surrender dont you see

Would you light a candle for me
In the midst of soveriegn and grief
Would you send me angels when im in need
Lord just be with me and comfort me till sleep

I see the wounds you can not mend
I see the anger i can slowly comprehend although some things can't be undone when you come with your bullets, and armor what have you won

atoms can be broken and the pain can be relieved

Would you light a candle for me
In the midst of soveriegn and grief
Would you send me angels when im in need
Lord just be with me and comfort me till sleep

Some things were* meant to change
For peace we can not wait

Would you light a candle for me
In the midst of soveriegn and grief
Would you send me angels when im in need
Lord just be with me and comfort me oh till sleep

Some things were* meant to change
For peace we can not wait
