"Men Seeking Gold"

Define all the things you really love
Where you find them, can you buy them in a store
Can you hide what you're hiding here below
Your inner voice

I imagine you standing across the sea
When you're far, when you're far away from me
Standing still, not sinking 'cause you're in my dream
A princess of the sea

Can you relate to that?

Men are seeking gold
Like it's gonna buy them a home
A place filled with warmth
Men seeking gold

So how do you see your only dream
Is it alive when I'm standing near here
Is it a sign where we're holding still
With no anxiety

Some rise then stumble and fall
Like the old civilizations before
But we arise and levitate above
Our divine souls

Can you relate to that?

Men are seeking gold
Like it's gonna buy them a home
A place filled with warmth
Men seeking gold

And I can't relate to that
No I can't relate to that
