Luka Belani
"Stealin'"

And if I ever get around your sweetest lie
I was crying loud while you were laughing

Now you're on the ground
You see those things go round
Now you're left to found yourself aching

It's now you that's fading
You'll never see me faking
You'll never see me chasing that lost feeling again.

Stealin', you've been stealin'
You've been stealin' my only love

And if I was the one to blame
Would it be the same
If I hadn't cried your name
To all love refrains

And was I blind to see
It's better to let it be
A comeback strategy for your whining scene

But I've been down and wasted
Praying all my time and waiting
For you to start some giving

But you kept stealin', you've been stealin'
You've been stealin' my only love
