

Luke, I Am Your Father "Carving Thoughts"

It's not you that have been hurting for this long
My arms can't hold this much cause I'm not strong Enough to bear this oath, I swear now
In front of all this scenes that haunt the Breath within my lungs.

Time ticks every thought I've built away
And now the mess you've caused won't be erased
Love has been lost and found, will not let myself drown
I know this much not to be mistaken twice Turn away and leave, the screams are now to loud to hear.

Enough to bear this oath, I swear now
