Don't wanna become what I hate the most
The perfect concept of the one
That hears and nods but never gets it

Changes become blesses when you
Finally see destruction
In the eyes
So that's it for me
And now, evolve
Bonds have been cut
I'm leaving behind
All that chokes
What's been left untold to you
It's so much to give, so much to take Interchanging actions that just won't hold
Us true to ourselves

As taking action becomes dull
So has become the spark that could
Lit an entire soul
Only time will tell if our story
Will come to a new beginning
Hope is never gone cause
I've got it all in my heart
The strength to lift my head
And take one more step.
