"Don't Touch The Flame"

I wish you well, hope you understand
If I could only tell
The choice you have to make
A beggar or the throne

But please don't touch the flame that burns inside
It will keep you safe and alive
This empty memory lane
Is filled with the touch of a flame

Who am I
Ever to judge you
Repeat the fears
Can you feel it feel it on your skin

But please don't touch the flame that burns inside
It will keep you safe and alive
This empty memory lane
Is filled with the touch of a flame

Open up your soul and let love in
But please don't touch the flame
