"Shine So Bright"

How could I forget
Things that You have done
And how could I ignore
The place You brought me from

But when I make it through the darkness
It's so easily forgotten

Heaven shines so bright on You, on You
The sun the moon and stars
Shine for You, shine for You

There is no one else
That loves me like You do
There is nothing else
That I would rather do

Than to walk beside You growing
Reflecting light that comes from knowing

You alone light up
The darkest corners of my heart
I try, but I can't hide from You
Can't hide from You
Can't hide from You
