We were constructed
The perfect post production
You were made from alien hands
The lust of every man

Elevated evolution
The problem and solution
You taught the serpent how to dance
You're the siren of romance

And I say, hey, hey, the end is coming
Why would you leave me wanting?
Bombs are raining from the sky
But even when the world's on fire
I won't stop to watch it burning
I can't bear to take my eyes off you

Venus in motion
The poison and the potion
You string me out like winter lights
You kill me every time

And I say, hey, hey, the end is coming
Why would you leave me wanting?
Bombs are raining from the sky
But even when the world's on fire
I won't stop to watch it burning
I can't bear to take my eyes off you

Oh, how I love to watch you dance
To a military band
As we're waiting on our fate
And I will always be the one who stays

And I say, hey, hey, the end is coming
Why would you leave me wanting?
Bombs are raining from the sky
But even when the world's on fire
I won't stop to watch it burning
I can't bear to take my eyes off you
