I smiled at you
But you didn't see
I asked you something
You didn't answer me
I touched you,
Felt nothing-cause you're not here anymore

Stop pretending to sleep in your bed
Stop pretending to dream

I sat near you
You didn't even notice
I told you stories
You didn't listen nor hear anything
I looked at you for a long while
But you didn't wake up for looking at me- cause you're not here anymore

I closed the window slowly
'Cause I was freezing
So finally I understood, that you're not here anymore

I disclosed you my love
That you didn't return
A wolf yelled at the moon
It broke the silence in me
