Don't explain yourself, doesn't matter reasons why I'd just as soon you leave and never said, I'd just as soon you go
I could feel this sympathy and this pity in your eyes
But do you think you mean so much to me, do you think I'll die

Well you go, and you play
But don't ever think a minute that you took my love
away
And I know I said a lot of things
But forever really means until the day it ends
That's tonight, it's gonna be tonight

I've been turned around and unsure of what to do
But like nature's stream that wash away, we must let it through
You just can't disguise there's a hardness in your eyes
And we'll never know how much we had until it's far behind

Well you go, and you play
But don't ever think a minute that you took my love
away
Well I know I said a lot of things
But forever really means until the day it ends
That's tonight, it's gonna be tonight

Ooh, and I remember the days I spent with you Never to lose
Never, never, no

You go, and you play
But don't ever think a minute you took my love away
Well I know I said a lot of things
But forever really means until the day it ends
That's tonight, it's gonna be tonight

I know you said a lot of things
But forever really means until the day it ends
I know you said a lot of things

But forever really means until the day it ends
I know you said a lot of things
But forever really means until the day it ends
I know you said a lot of things
But forever really means until the day it ends
