She said, "There was no love in her heart"
'Cause one day, a rapist attacked her and broke that all apart
She said, "There was no way to fix it or to cover her scars"
Then one day a guy came along that probably could help her start

He was sincere made her believe it was safe for her to trust again
Before long, she was cool with givin' hugs to him Knew that it was right, 'cause somethin' was wrong
The alarms in her mind didn't tell her he didn't belong there was no

Intruder, intruder, intruder, intruder
Alert, alert, alert, alert
Intruder, intruder, intruder, intruder
Alert, alert, alert, alert

He said, "Nobody else ever loved him" That's why, he get high enough to go touch the heavens above him Vividly remembers every pipe, every needle that stuck him
Every alley he ever slept in, every purse that he snuck in

Every level of hell he's been to, and the one that he's stuck in No wonder he can't escape, even though it's of his own construction Maybe you can relate, maybe you just one of those that just doesn't Maybe he doesn't care, loves to allow these demons to come in with no

Intruder, intruder, intruder, intruder
Alert, alert, alert, alert
Intruder, intruder, intruder, intruder
Alert, alert, alert, alert

Famine strikin' his home-land and no social standin'
And the economic peckin' order Emergency relief distribution systems is in disorder He's checkin' water, makin' sure it's safe enough for his daughter

To float across in the boat he built Hopefully strong enough to support her Prayin' border patrols don't catch her ass Process and deport her

Before she reach the shore, of the land of the free
Where they feed you, treat you like equals Deceive you, stamp you and call you illegal And there's an

Intruder, intruder, intruder, intruder
Alert, alert, alert, alert
Intruder, intruder, intruder, intruder
Alert, alert, alert, alert

There's someone here and it's not me how could this be?
I locked my doors, get my armies on my shore
They pulled my rockets and my sky, I'm so fortified
I built my wall so high, so why oh why are there?

Intruder, intruder, intruder, intruder
Intruder, intruder, intruder, intruder
Intruder, intruder, intruder, intruder
