So many times I've seen, so many people's dreams
Lost and washed away out to the sea, yeah
I said no, not I, pain would surely pass me by Happening to them, but not to me, yeah

Hearts get broken all the time
Never used to worry about things like this
But the trouble is this time it's mine
Now I'm worrying this one is mine
See the problem is, the heart is mine

Love would be all I'd need, how naive could I be Trusting other people with my care, yeah
Never thought I'd have to be one of love's casualties
Up until now my belief was that love was fair

Hearts get broken all the time
But I never worried 'bout things like this
But the trouble is, this time it's mine
I keep worrying, this one is mine
See the problem is, the heart is mine

This time my heart's breaking
This time my love is failing
I'm trying hard not to be bitter now
Never dreamed that the broken heart would be mine

Hearts get broken all the time
You think it's love, but it never really is Never could imagine a thing like that, I wouldn't worry, I wouldn't
But the trouble is this time it's mine
Got me worrying this one is mine
See the problem is the heart is mine
This is mine, this is mine, yeah

Hearts get broken all the time
Never cared a doggone thing about that, I wouldn't worry
But the trouble is this time it's mine
And the problem really is this one is mine

See the whole thing is the heart is mine

This time it's mine, this one is mine
The heart is mine
This time it's mine, this one is mine
The heart is mine

This time it's mine, this one is mine
The heart is mine
This time it's mine, this one is mine
The heart is mine
