One thing I would love to do
Is talk to someone wish I knew who Sometimes the people who know the least say the most Makes you wonder who you can trust what's gonna happen

The first thing I know God is love
The next thing would be He loves me
Sometimes I'm tired of waiting for a thing or someone
Then I stop and see what He's done
And I know everything will come

Maybe today anything can change, nothing stays the same
Maybe today what's tomorrow for
No one knows for sure through it all come may Little miracles happen everyday

And so there you go strangely enough
Alone even so addicted to love
You're in and out so quickly that it gives you a start
You're waiting for a message or a word
But you haven't heard from your heart

But it maybe today anything can change nothing stays the same
And maybe today is for the love in me
I really believe through it all come what may
Little miracles happen everyday

What is a miracle? Love is a miracle
Every time that you care a miracles happen somewhere
So many miracles even small little miracles
Just take one look about it's not hard to figure out

'Cause it might be today, oh anything can change nothing stays the same
And maybe today what's tomorrow for
No one knows for sure through it all come what may
Little miracles happen everyday

Little miracles happen everyday

Little miracles happen everyday
They happen everyday
