I am still your friend
Standin' by to catch you
If ever life should let you down
And you should fall

You don't need to pretend
If ever doubt should find you
I don't need to remind you
I'm there for you before and after all

I am who I am
And I would never fool you
I feel the same way you do
About honesty

But do we understand
How love is sometimes jaded
It keeps us separated
Even though we'll never part

So to be lovers
We've got to understand
Today is how today begins
Tomorrow's how it ends

And to be lovers
Some things we rise above
'Cause sometimes love is wonderful
But sometimes it's only love

Loving who I am
Is something that you've taught me
The kind of love you've brought me
Takes me through the day

And even though our minds
Are sometimes disagreeing
Our hearts they're still believing
We'll work it out and stay

So to be lovers
We've got to understand

Today is how today begins
Tomorrow's how it ends

And to be lovers
'Cause sometimes love is wonderful
But sometimes it's only love

I knew that one day
It would be only love
It would be only
It would be only love

I knew that in time
It would be only love
It would be only love

And to be lovers

And to be lovers

I knew that one day
It would be only

'Cause sometimes love is wonderful
