Who do you wanna make yourself tonight?
Let's get you on the table
And start the surgery
You've got to be ready by nine.
There's no doubt every man's face will be turned to you
They're trying to undress you with their eyes
But you know if you're violated
You're so excited now

Everything you wanted
Everything you need
You can find in your heart
Everything you wanted
Everything you need
Is flowing steadily through your veins
Waiting for the moment to explode
Into the open air.

Who will you bring back to your bed tonight?
Will he be everything you've dreamed of?
Then be gone when you open your eyes?

There's just something about this lifestyle
That calls you back all the time
Going out every night
Over and over and over again

Everything you wanted
Everything you need
You can find in your heart
Everything you wanted
Everything you need
Is flowing steadily through your veins
Waiting for the moment to explode
Into the open air

Hold your head
Hold it high

You're everything you dreamed tonight...

Everything you wanted
Everything you need
You can find in your heart
Everything you wanted
Everything you need
Is flowing steadily through your veins
Waiting for the moment to explode
Into the open air
