I live here in exile my home is not my heart they're miles and oceans apart so I long for the mountains beyond the brave city wall I pray tonight they'll fall then sun will shine on me send the light and let me free I'll be off and on my way
on my independence day
and all the songs I could not sing and all the words I would not say I'll be shouting everything

everyday I dream of leaving and now I put up a fight and in the morning I might cannot wait for an answer for you to tell me it's alright it's time to save my only life then the sun will shine on me

send the light and let me free
I'll be off and on my way
and all the songs I could not sing
and all the words I would not say
on my independence day

I can feel my trouble disappear anywhere the road will lead if it takes me far away from here

send the light and let me free
I'll be off and on my way
and all the songs I could not sing
and all the words I would not say
