Sometimes love don't get you nothing
But a big heart break yeah yeah
Put you through more changes than the weather
Make you cry more tears than you
Thought you could
But you got to have it, yeah, life ain't
Life when it's gone though
See it's a very strong addiction
That you'll never shake
Love's a lovely habit that you will never break
Love is just another drug
Sometimes you don't want it, but you need it
Love is just another drug
It'll bring you to your knees but
You'll beg for more
Sometimes love do'n't get you nothing
But tears and pain
But you'll sell your soul to the devil
You'll walk a million miles, if it's that far away
We all got to have it, yeah, life ain't
Life when it's gone though
See it's a very strong addiction
That you'll never shake
Love's a lovely habit that you will never break
Love is just another drug
Sometimes you don't want it, but you need it you need it
Love is just another drug
It'll bring you to your knees but
You'll beg for more
And there may come a day when the Sun ain't gonna shine on you
And material things can't help you
So do right by the ones who care for you
Cause it's always the love
That gets you through
Love is just another drug
No no you don't want it, but you need it you need it
Love is just another drug
The perpetual addiction
Ain't no rehabilitation, baby

Love is just another drug
Make you feel like heaven, put you through hell
Love is just another drug
Make you feel like heaven, heaven
Ahhhhh.... yeah yeah
(and I'm a junkie for your love)
