Yeah, I mean I know what you talkin' about, brother
So let me tell him

I know a lot of women gonna hate it But, somebody's gotta say it
And so I nominated myself to deliver the news That it's hard for a man to choose a lady that already got a baby

Although his feelings may be strong Having kids that don't belong to him Holdin' on to him, somehow seems wrong to him Exposing them to a man who may one day decide He's tired of the family life

Now he's gotta tell that little girl a 'goodbye lie'
When he's the only Dad she's ever had in her life And I don't wanna take that chance, please don't take offense
It's just the thought of hurting somebody that was innocent

She got kids, don't know if I'm ready to give Them the things that they need to live
'Cause if we become more than just friends
What I do for her, I gotta do for them kids
And I just wanna make sure this is more than just a sexual trip
All I wanna do is prevent those kids from gettin' hurt again, yeah

Now most men think it but they'll never say it But what if ya'll had another baby And he's accused of choosing favorites, and they're right
Would he be wrong for lovin' his own flesh and blood a little more?
Is he being human or only being immature? Who's to say?

That's why it's better just to wait, take love day to day And let love spread its own wings

If it wants to fly away or if it decides to stay It won't be because of any unrealistic expectations, ya'll done made

And he won't have to pray that little girl ain't awake When he tiptoe out the door, so he won't have to explain
I don't wanna take that chance, please, don't take
offense
Just don't need that kinda drama on my conscience

She got kids, don't know if I'm ready to give Them the things that they need to live
'Cause if we become more than just friends
What I do for her, I gotta do for them kids
And I just wanna make sure this is more than just a
sexual trip
All I wanna do is prevent those kids from gettin' hurt again

But then, even though when I see God cares After all the, you know, bein' concerned and all the worryin'
I just realized that you know, I had [Incomprehensible] finished for
And I just can't see her bein' with nobody else, I just can't
