

Lyle Lovett "I've Been To Memphis"

Visit "I've Been To Memphis" on MotoLyrics.com

The sun comes up in a coffee cup
Waitress, please I've had enough

Lord, I can't believe what I see
How could you be alone
When you could sit right here beside me, girl
And make yourself at home

I've been to Memphis
And muscle shoals
And I love a woman
What I don't know

When the sun goes down in some another town
Bartender, please another round

Lord, I can't believe what I see
How could you be alone
When you could sit right here beside me girl
And make yourself at home

I've been to Houston
And San Antonio
And I love a woman
What I don't know

Sherry, she had big ones
Sally had some too
But Allison had little ones
What hate to go to school

And I make my bed
Where I lay my head
And I wish I heard
What she just said

Lord, I can't believe what I see
How could you be alone
When you could sit right here beside me, girl
And make yourself at home

I've been to L.A

And El Paso
And I love a woman
What I don't know

Sherry, she had big ones
Sally had some too
But Allison had little ones
What hate to go to school

And I make my bed
Where I lay my head
And I wish I heard
What she just said

Lord, I can't believe what I see
How could you be alone
When you could sit right here beside me, girl
And make yourself at home

I've been to
And where I go
When I love a woman
What I don't know

And I love a woman
What I don't know
And I love a woman
What I don't know
Oh, what I don't know

Visit Lyle Lovett page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.