You can have it all
Every little piece of me
I never thought you'd slip away
Everything has changed
Nothing seems to be the same
I still wake at night breathing your name

Now the whole world is a cage
Without you I'm not the same
Voices scream inside my head
Hangin' on to everything

And I would never try to change you
My dream is over if I don't have you
You just took it all away

Wash away the years
Drown them deep inside of me
I never thought you'd slip away

Now you've found somebody new
Something's changed inside of you
If I could make you understand
I would give you everything

And I would never try to change you
My dream is over if I don't have you

Now I just cant seem to breathe without you
I'm still holding on

Now you've found somebody new
Something's changed inside of you
Does he keep you warm at night
And do you ever think of me

And I would never try to change you
And my dream is over if I don't

And i would never try to change you
And my dream is over if i dont

And i would never try to change you
And my dream is over if i dont
